The time had come for a change/chance _____. In 1954, the US Superb/Supreme _____ Court decided that segregation/regressing _____ in schools was violating/segregating _____ the Constitution. From that moment on, blacks could go to any school they wanted to apprehend/attend _____. This court ruling was highly predominant/significant _____ and it sparked a desire to fight for equal rights in all parts of society. But there was still a long way to go. In 1960, some black students in Greensboro, North Carolina, inspired by what had already been achieved/retrieved _____ sat down in a part of a restaurant designated/desolated _____ for whites only. They were not served and there were expressions of outspread/outrage _____ by the white customers. However, more and more black students kept coming every day for six months. This non-violent protest proved to be an important constitution/contribution _____ to the struggle for equal rights in America.
